Guests are welcome for this program

There is a great awareness today, that the protection of the honeybee is vital. It is the goal of Sheila and Denzil St Clair, owners of Queen Right Colonies, to help everyone interested in the hobby of beekeeping to keep bees in the healthiest possible environment. Please bring a picnic lunch and enjoy the sights and sounds of a Century old farm. Afterward, we will be given a talk and live demonstration at the hives by Mr. St Clair. Look around the grounds; see the homing pigeons, peacocks, zebu cattle, and Shetland sheep. We will also visit their large showroom of beekeeping supplies, honey processing equipment, bottles, candles, hand cream, lip balm, honey pots, molds, oils, fragrances and more! Rain or Shine.

11:30am – 12:30pm Lunch

12:30pm – 02:30pm Talk and live demonstration

Registrations must be received by Tuesday, September 3rd
